Shifting Seasons

Oct 14 – Oct 17, 2014 Keshena Wisconsin

Building tribal Capacity for Climate Change Adaption Summit

Shifting was designed to bring together Tribal decision makers / Federal agencies, Indigenous Practioners, Land Resource Managers and climate Chance Scientists.

Day one Attended

Climate Change impacts in the N. E. and Midwest U.S.

Applying Climate Science tour Great lakes Systems and Communities.

Pacific Northwest Indigenous climate change response and collaborations

Tribal Climate adaption Case study #1 #2

Café table training

Table 2 USDA regional climate hubs: Adaption in Agriculture

Donna Gibson

Model Forest Policy Program

Vanitha Sivarajan

Oct 16

Best Practices and Ethics for Cooperation for Non – Tribal representatives

Presenter Kyle Powys Whyte, Michigan State

Climate change adaption and forest management: A workbook process and examples of the real world.

Case studies of Adaption Planning and adaption Strategies.

Climate change adaption and forest management: work book process.

Oct 17, 2014

Intro to key net works

Small group facilitated conversations.

What are solutions for addressing tribal adaption needs?

How do LCCs, CSCs, Regional climate hubs and other federal climate change initiatives fit together in relation to tribes?

What is the role of nonprofit organizations in relation to federal agencies and tribes in terms of facilitating tribal adaption?

What ere the recommendations for networks such as IPPCWG, Rising Voices, CTKW and First Stewards?

That and many questions led to further questions all in all it was a great conference. Thanks for the opportunity to attend.

John Keshick III